NORWICH
FASHION
WEEK 2016

Debut hair show was a cut above

The focus was on the hair, rather than the clothes, at the latest Norwich Fashion Week show.

The Dipple and Conway Hair Show - the first in the six years the week has been running - brought together stylists from across the city to create contemporary cuts and bold colours.

Drawing the biggest applause of the night was Rosebud, a group of four drag queens who took to the runway. The event also featured wedding dresses from the Big C Wedding Boutique and clothing from some independent Norwich designers.

The curling, up-dos and crimping began at 7am yesterday and models were rehearsing throughout the day amid a cloud of hairspray at Norwich Fashion Week's new home, Open, in Bank Plain.

Deborah Dominic, show co-ordinator and owner of Hairsmiths salon, said: "The work is amazing what has been done."

"There are nine different salons here and all of the make-up artists are from Norwich School of Beauty. The models have been great."

Young woman is hurt in car park hit-and-run

Police are today investigating a hit-and-run in a supermarket car park that left a young woman with serious head injuries.

The incident happened in the Asda car park, off Drayton High Road, in Hellesdon, when a silver Vauxhall Corsa was leaving the store towards the Sweet Briar exit.

Police said the vehicle hit a female pedestrian before leaving the scene.

The 21-year-old woman, believed to be from the Norwich area, was taken to Addenbrooke's Hospital, in Cambridge, for treatment. The ambulance service said she sustained a serious head injury and required critical care.

Speaking yesterday, her partner, who did not wish to be named, said the woman had been in a coma following the incident. But he added that she had since regained consciousness and was now in a stable condition.

Officers later found and seized the vehicle believed to have been involved in the incident, which occurred at around 7.50pm on Thursday.

Police said an 18-year-old man from the Norwich area had been arrested for failing to stop at an "injury road traffic collision" and on suspicion of causing serious injury through dangerous driving.

He has been released on bail until April 9 to allow for further inquiries.

It is not known how fast the vehicle was travelling, but Asda said a 5mph speed limit was clearly signposted around its car parks.

A spokesman for the company said that an ambulance was called straight away and colleagues were on hand to help the woman until emergency services arrived.

The spokesman added: "We're aware of an accident that happened at our Norwich store and are doing everything we can to assist the police with their inquiries."

■ Anyone who may have seen the incident or anyone with information should contact PC Robert Conner at Wymondham police station on 101 or Crimestoppers anonymously on 0800 555 111.
