

What's On

Norwich Fashion Week March 10-17 Norwich Fashion Show is now into its sixth year. Amongst the six cat walk events planned – all taking place at OPEN – two stand out. The Fashion Excess Show mixes street/ high street and indie design and features live music from local bands, whilst Dipple and Conway's Hair Show showcases the stars of Norwich's hairdressing talent. Tickets are available at OPEN's Box Office, or via their website www.opennorwich.co.uk

Amongst all the other fab films worth catching at Cinema City are two live broadcasts worth catching. The first is TED16 Dream on February 16 when the sharpest thinkers, artists, scientists of our time share ideas 'worth spreading', and is broadcast live from Vancouver. On March 3 Martin McDonagh's 'Hangmen' is screened as NT live broadcast.

THE HIT NEW COMEDY FROM THE CREATOR OF IN BRUGES

Robert Fox, Matthew Byam Shaw for Playful Productions and Royal Court Theatre Productions present
The Royal Court Theatre production of

HANGMEN

St*ART at Norwich Castle. A brand new venture begins in February, aimed at getting children into galleries and into art. Subsidised at a 50% rate by Town Close Estate Charity and East Anglia Art Fund, the scheme offers fourteen 8-12 year olds the chance to attend workshops every Saturday morning from 10-12.30, by practicing artist Ali Atkins. Three terms' activities are planned – drawing in Spring term; painting in summer and 3D in Autumn. Places are extremely limited, but for more information email norwichcastle.bookings@norfolk.gov.uk

